Mad Because Arkansas Town Received Help

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., who opposes the use of tax-free municipal bond issues to build plants to lure industry from one state to another, is hopping mad over the new depressed areas program.

And his particularly irked over the fact the first such depressed area project to be approved is in Arkansas, which will soon get two industries now located in Michigan.

"It is unconscionable for the Kennedy administration to stand idly by and allow communities in Southern states to lure new industry by utilitizing a federal tax lophole and then to reward them with a handout of federal funds," Griffin said in a statement issued Wednesday.

The two Michigan industries moving to Arkansas are the Norge division of Borg - Warner Corp. and the Scott Valve Co.

Norge will locate at Fort Smith and Scott Valve at Blytheville.

Griffin said 10 to 15 states, most of them in the South, permit municipalities to issue bonds for the purpose of financing industrial development and said they are "thriving on the loophole provided by the present federal tax law."

He specifically mentioned Arkansas, Mississippi, Louisiana, Tennessee, Alabama and Kentucky.

As for the first project approved under the depressed areas law—a $125,000 federal grant to Gassville, Ark., and a 31,000 loan to finance a water system needed by a new industry which will locate there—Griffin said:

"Not only are Michigan taxpayers subsidizing this new Arkansas plant through the depressed area bill, but we are also subsidizing the operation in another very significant respect.

"According to press reports, the new plant at Gassville, Ark., is being financed by a $535,000 tax-free municipal bond issue."

Griffin last May introduced a bill to discourage the use of tax-free municipal bonds to "pirate" industry from one part of the nation to another. So far, no action has been taken on the bill.

Mar-Bax Shirt Co. will use the plant at Gassville and employ an anticipated 1,000 persons.

Groundbreaking is set Friday for the water system for which the $31,000 federal loan was approved.

Thurmond Rebukes Fulbright

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Strom Thurmand, D-S.C., rebuked Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., in a Senate speech Wednesday for criticizing public advocacy of political theories by military leaders.

"The senator from South Carolina, who opposed federal aid to education because he feared federal control of education, apparently wants the military to educate the people," Fulbright retorted.

The Defense Department ordered military personnel to tone down political speeches after Fulbright objected to the practice in a private memo to Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

Thurmond said the military leader has the responsibility of informing, not only his trops, but the American public concerning the tetal nature of the Communist menace."

Fulbright said military leaders should not sponsor or lend their prestige to public meetings featuring extremist speakers.

Mr. Thurmond said, "The infamous attacks on our military leaders and the attempts to discredit them and to intimidae them to the extent that they will neglect their responsibiliy to inform the American public and personnel under their command constitute a threat to our very existence."

Second State Vocational School Asked

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Education Department today announced plans to seek $275,000 from a special legislative session to finance construction of a second state vocational education school.

Education Commissioner Arch Ford said an adequate school could be built with that amount of money if the city in which the school is located provides a site.

A $500,000 appropriation for such a school died when the Supreme Court invalidated the 1961 omnibus law. The Legislative Council will begin hearings Aug. 1 from which it will draw up a list of construction items for consideration at a forthcoming special session.

Marvin Bird of Earle, state Board of Education chairman, will present the department's request to the council next Thursday.

More than $500,000 was spent on the first vocational school at Pine Bluff, but that price included land and equipment. Ford said the $275,000 would not cover equipment, which would have to be provided by some future legislature.

Costruction of the school would take two years, Ford said, leaving time for the 1963 General Assembly to make an appropriation for equipment.

Construction costs could be pared, Ford said, by putting the entire building under one roof. The Pine Bluff school is built in wings.

A site for the school will not be selected unless the appropriation is made. More than 20 cities bid for the first school before Pine Bluff was selected.

French Jet Crashes But 43 Escape

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — An Air France jet, taking off for Tokyo by way of the polar route, crashed today with 43 persons aboard. No one was killed among the 28 passengers and 15 crew. The airline said five passengers and three crewmen were slightly injured scrambling out of the plane.

The big Boeing 707 veered off the runway at the takeoff and crashed into a construction site.

Airport officials, who immediately began an investigation, said all four jet engines caught fire, but firefighters quickly extinguished the flames and averted what threatened to be a major disaster.

The plane, which came in from Paris, was to fly to Tokyo with its next stop at Anchorage, Alaska.

Wrecks Truck to Avoid Hitting Child

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — A 19-year-old truck driver rounded a curve and saw a child toddling down the middle of Highway 7. Without hesitation, he swerved, overturning his pickup truck and a car he was towing.

Both William E. Baley of Dover, the truck driver, and Ed Watson, a passenger, escaped injury in the accident Wednesday about 15 miles north of here.

State Trooper Glen Minton said 18-month-old Lloyd Garrett Jr. had wandered away from his parents' home nearby and onto the highway. He was not hurt.

Watson owned the car which Baley was towing.

Race Feud Ends in Violence

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A smouldering feud between rival gangs of white and Negro youths at Blackstone, Va., exploded into violence as two white teen-agers were wounded by shotgun pellets.

The youths were wounded on Wednesday night when Negroes fired a shotgun into a milling crowd made up of the two gangs. Police Chief Bruce Farley said they were not seriously hurt.

Farley said the feud had been brewing for two or three nights. Wednesday night the Negroes sent two small boys to tell the white youths they were ready to fight. The chief said 51 white boys piled into three cars and met the Negroes near the center of Blackstone.

At Richmond, Va., a federal judge said Wednesday it would be up to the Virginia Supreme Court to determine whether the Prince Edward County public schools were closed in violation of the state's constitution.

Judge Oren R. Lewis said he was not going to require the reopening of the county's schools, closed two years ago to avoid racial integration.

Lewis' comments came in the third day of a hearing as attorneys for the Negro plaintiffs and the Prince Edward School Board summarized before the judge arguments in a court case testing the legality of the school closures.

At Washington, Justice Hugo L. Black turned down a bid to win release of a "Freedom Rider" from a Mississippi prison. The habeas corpus action was brought on behalf of Elizabeth Porter Wyckoff, 45, of New York City, who contended her conviction was unconstitutional and invalid.

In a brief opinion, Black said there was not enough evidence to show that all state legal processes had been exhausted. Miss Wyskoff was arrested lastmonth in Jackson, Mis., when she joined a group of other Freedom Riders in an attempt to enter areas of a bus terminal designated for white persons.

Sentences Handed Out in Court

In Hempstead Circuit Court this morning Judge Lyle Brown revoked two suspended sentences and sentenced a third person outright.

James Kennedy Pierce, 17, of Greenville, Texas, pleaded guilty to burglary and grand larceny and was given a general term of three years in the state penitentiary. He admitted the burglary of Plaza Cafe hre several weeks ago. A second man involved, Tommy Earl Alexander, hasn't been apprehended.

Eugene Edward Blalock admitted forgery and a previous suspended sentence was revoked. He is to serve three years in prison.

John Henry Harris, sentenced last February to five years for forgery had the suspended sentence revoked and was sent to the penitentiary.

Sonny Deer, 21-year-old Dierks man entered a plea of not guilty to forgery. His bond was fixed at $500.

French Snub Leaves UN Head Bitter

TUNIS (AP)—U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold left for New York today after a three-day on-the-spot study of the explosive Bizerte crisis. He did not hide his bitterness at a French snub.

Sources close to Hammarskjold said he was particularly annoyed by the refusal of Vice Adm. Maurice Amman, French commander of the Bizerte base, to see him. Amman said he acted on orders from Paris. The French government earlier accused the secretary-general of showing favoritism toward Tunisia.

Hammarskjold told newsmen he was concerned by what he described as French refusal to withdraw to the base after a ceasefire.

"You know my reaction," he said. "I believe that now I have a complete picture of the situation."

"Are you optimistic?" a newsman asked.

"I am," Hammarskjold replied. "In this world you have to be an optimist."

Hammarskjold left aboard a special plane for Rome where he is to take a commercial airliner for New York.

Pursuing his customary policy of uncommunicativeness to newsmen, the U.N. secretary-general said nothing about any recommendations he might be taking back to the Security Council. The council is expected to meet soon after his return for further discussion of the crisis between France and Tunisia.

Hammarskjold was rebuffed in an attempt to see the French commander in Tunisia, and the French foreign office said it would be useless for him to visit Paris. The French attitude marked a further deterioration in relations between Franse an the world organization, of which President Charles de Gaulle has grown increasingly contemptuous.

Hammarskjold, who came here at the invitation of Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba, said he hoped "common sense and human wisdom" would prevent any further fighting around the French naval and air base at Bizerte.

De Gaulle's government, pointedly ignoring the U.N., said in a statement Wednesday night it wanted peace talks soon "between French and Tunisian authority.

Hammarskjold had wrien Foreign Miniser Maurice Couve de Murville complaining because and said his letter "semms to me Security Council resolution call-

Castro Sets Up Single Red Party in Cuba

By WILLIAM L. Ryan

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba today winds up a mammoth four-day celebration of the eigth anniversary of Fidel Castro's revolution highlighted by Castro's announcement that all Cuban organizations will be merged into a single "United Party of Cuba's Socialist Revolution."

(Castro's announcement had been predicted several weeks ago and observers in the United States said the single party, when it is formed, would be dominated by the Communists.)

The prime minister made his announcement during a 3½-hour speech before hundreds of thousands of Cubans who wildly cheered him and Soviet spaceman Yuri Gagarin.

The Soviet major, launching out into international politics for the first time since he orbited the earth, denounced the United States and pledged to Cuba "the armed help of the Soviet people."

Castro followed Gagarin to the platform as the crowd shouted "down the Caimanera"—the Cuban name for the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay in eastern Cuba.

The prime minister first attacked the U.S. press for predicting he would mark the 26th of July anniversary by announcing plans for a single political organization. A few minutes later, he told the crowd Cuba was headed toward one over-all Socialist party embracing all organizations in the island country—military, political, labor and others.

Castro did not say when such a party would be proclaimed but indicated its formation would be gradual.

Castro also said he would return the Eastern Air Lines plane hijacked by an armed passenger Monday if the United States promises to return any Cuban planes that might be seized and flown to the United States in the future.

A number of Cuban planes hijacked and flown to the United States have been seized to satisfy a legal judgment against the Castro government.

Castro denied any responsibility for the hijacking of the American plane off its Miami-to-Tampa run. He said such an act "is against our principles and would just be giving an excuse to imperialism for launching an attack against us."

At the start of the rally Gagarin was presented with Cuba's new highest decoration, the Order of Giron Beach created 11 days ago.

The decoration is named for the beach on the south coast of Cuba where Castro crushed the U.S.-supported invasion of Cuban exiles in April.

Negro Held in Fatal Shooting

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Robert Lee McFee, 20, a Negro, was held in Pulaski County Jail on an open charge in connection with the fatal shooting of his wife at their home near England Wednesday.

Officers said Willie Lee McFee, 19, was killed by a .22 caliber bullet. The quoted McFee as saying he fired accidentally when the woman threw a tray of ice water on him. He said he was preparing to go frog hunting and had the rifle in his hands.

Those Small Cards Again Important

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hundreds of thousands of small cards today were taken from desk drawers and the hidden recesses of wallets where they had lain unnoticed for months—even years.

President Kennedy Wednesday asked for more personnel in the armed forces, and overnight the most closely scrutinized card in the nation became the "notice of classification" issued by the Selective Service System.

Telephone calls in some instances two score more than the normal number, began to flood the switchboards of draft boards in every state, county, city and hamlet.

The American male wanted to know just where he stood in the President's plans to beef up the armed forces.

Thousands of others, apparently resigned to their A-1 classification, sought out the armed forces recruiting centers. They wanted to know what was being offered to the enliste.

Civil Defense headquarters across the country were deluged with calls from citizens wanting to know what precautions they could take to avert the devastation of an enemy air attack.

Even the newest state, Hawaii, reported queries on Selective Service status had tripled in 24 hours. Officials there described the volume of telephone calls and personal visits to the offices as "just tremendous."

Though the armed forces' recruiting centers did a land-office business—in some cases judged equal to activities during the Korean War—many reported "plenty of questions but few enlistments."

Probably one of the most common reasons for the calls to draft boards was requests to correct exiting records of individuals.

Many called to remind Selective Service officials that they had become fathers one or more times since their latest visit to the draft board.

Others wanted the board officials to know that their mother or father, or an aged aunt or uncle had in recent months become a dependent.

Col. Frank J. Graf, deputy director of the Pennsylvania Selective Service System, said, "generally over the state people came in correcting records."

"Many men suddenly realized they had better bring their records up to date. Many of the calls and queries were from married men with children, wanting to know if they will be called."

Fire Destroys Negro Drive-in

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP)—An early-morning fire today destroyed a large Negro drive-in and dance hall here.

Owner James Graham estimated damage at $30,000.

Camden firemen, called to the fire in an addition just outside the city limits, were unable to fight the flames because of lack of water. They used water carried on the truck to save a motel, barbecue stand and two houses nearby.

Cause of the fire was not determined. A resident of the area called firemen about 4:15 a.m.

The frame structure, about 60 by 150 feet, burned until about 7 a.m.

Domestic Cut Demanded by the GOP

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) —Republican congressional leaders today formally pledged their "complete support" of President Kennedy in the Berlin crisis. But they demanded cuts in domestic spending to offset the military buildup.

This stand was announced by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Senate minority leader; and Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana House minority leader, at a news conference that followed a meeting of top GOP members of Senate and House.

They warned Soviet Premier Khrushchev against falling into the "mistaken belief" that the United States will not go "all the way," including resort to nuclear warfare, to meet its commiments in Europem

They also cautioned him not to get the mistaken notion that because Democrats and Republicans criticize each other "there is no real will to defend freedom so far as America is concerned."

Gas Hearing to Resume August 7

LITLE ROCK (AP)—The next phase in a disputed Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. rate increase will begin Aug. 7 and opponents may try to take advantage of a "clerical transposition" in an Arkla exhibit.

Arkla attorney R. H. Thornton, Jr. filed a correction with the Arkansas Public Service Commission Wednesday but said the new material does not materially change the company's position.

An Arkla exhibit filed with the PSC July 19 showed the company had an annual revenue deficiency of $2,685,328 before it put a 70-cent minimum rate increase into effect April 1 and a deficiency of $1,681,867 after the increase took effect.

The deficiency Arkla referred to is the amount of return it maintains it could earn before reaching the 6.34 per cent rate the Arkansas Supreme Court has said is reasonable.

Thornton said the utility consultant who prepared the exhibit, J. E. Flanders of Jefferson City, Mo., notified him that a "clerical transposition" occurred in transferring certain general and administrative expenses from his work sheets to the exhibit.

The corrected figures filed Wednesday showed the deficiency actually to be $2,141,400 prior to the increase and $1,137,939 after it went into effect.

Several Arkansas cities are protesting the increase in minimum rates.

Kills Brother and His Wife

EXETER, Calif. (AP)—William S. Moore, who once served a prison term in Arkansas for the slaying of his brother, is due for arraignment Aug. 2 in conection with the fatal beating of his sister.

Moore, 40, admitted the slaying, officers said.

Moore was scheduled for a preliminary hearing Wednesday but the case was continued.

Moore was found guilty of the slaying of his brother in White County, Ark., in 1946 and was paroled in 1960

Committee in Approval of JFK's Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's requests for broad powers to call up more combat forces and buy more military hardware won overwhelming approval today from the Senate Armed Services Committee.

After a three-hour closed door session with Pentagon leaders the committee approved two bills without change and sent them to the Senate for expected passage Friday.

Top defense officials old the committee earlier they plan only limited use now of some of the powers asked by Kenedy to call up 250,000 reservists or hold servicemen on duty for a year beyond terms for which they volunteered or were drafted.

By John Chadwick

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fast Senate action is in prospect for legislation requested by President Kennedy to put the armed forces in "peak readiness" to counter Communist threats to Berlin and other danger spots.

The Senate Armed Services Committee called Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to satisfy on a bill to permit the President to call up to 250,000 ready reservists to active duty for 12 months.

Also before the committee is a bill to authorize appropriation of $958,570,000 for aircraft, missiles, and naval vessels as part of the $3,454,000,000 additional funds requested for a buildup of U.S. military forces and for civilian defense.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, DGa., the committee chairman, told newsmen he knew of no opposition to either measure. He said he expected the committee to act on them later today and hoped the Senate would pass them Friday.

McNamara spent nearly four hours in a closed door session with a Senate Appropriations subcommittee Wednesday, explaining the administration's plans for beefing up the nation's military might.

The program is geared primarily to increasing non nuclear forces so that this country will have, as McNamara put it, "a great range of military alternatives" for meeting Soviet moves.

Overall, the defense appropriation bill now asked by the administration for the fiscal year that began July 1 tops $46 billion.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., chairman of the Appropriations subcommittee, said it plans to act on the bill Friday afternoon. The full committee is expected to act on it next Tuesday. Robertson said the bill probably will be brought up in the Senate toward the end of next week.

The House already has passed the defense money bill, but it acted before Kennedy's request for additional funds was submitted to Congress Wednesday.

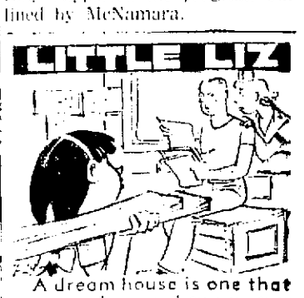

Russell was joined by Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., senior GOP member of the Armed Services Committee, in introducing the measure to let the President, until July 1, 1962, order 250,000 ready reservists to active duty for 12 months.

The measure also would permit the resident to extend for not more than 12 months terms of service of military personnel which expire before that date.

In addition, the bill provides authority for extending active-duty training periods. McNamara said this would be used to increase "the readiness of selected reserve units and individual reservists by extending their training periods two to four weeks over and above their normal training."

If Kennedy had chosen to invoke emergency powers in effect since the Korean War, he could have called to active duty as many as 1 million ready reservists for two years. However, Congress would have had to supply the necessary funds.

Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, told the subcommittee he fully supported the program outlined by McNamara.

New Clothes Now Flatter the Figure

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS (AP) — Good-loking clothes that flatter figures with a pure princess line were shown in Jacques Heim's "spiral" collection today.

The only things unwearable in the whole show were some of the colors—sallow sepias and greeny browns. Mere agreeable were warm browns, mid-gray, off-white, mustard gold, orangy tones and black.

The designer thinks the most special things in his collection are two-in-one coat dresses, mostly spiral wrapped. Those, as well as most dresses and suits, mold the figure to the botom of the hip and then flare flatteringly to a hemline which has dropped by an inch to cover the knees.

There are also dresses that look like suits and back-opening coats and jackets that appear to be worn backward. Taken on the whole, things are not what they seem in the fashion picture this season.

Capes and cape effects drop in a point behind in the Heim collection. Here again are necklines, with scarf extensions draped around the shoulders. But in spite of its twisty name, the Heim show is generally clean-lined and simple.

Jackets are short or medium in length. Fur collars are modestly small. Cocktail and dinner sheaths mold everything but the waist, with a few high-waisted empire numbers thrown in.

There are flecked tweeds, textured wool coats, silk crepe dresses, velvets and pale gold to coppery and cut steel lames. Dark glitter comes with jet and irridescent trimmings.

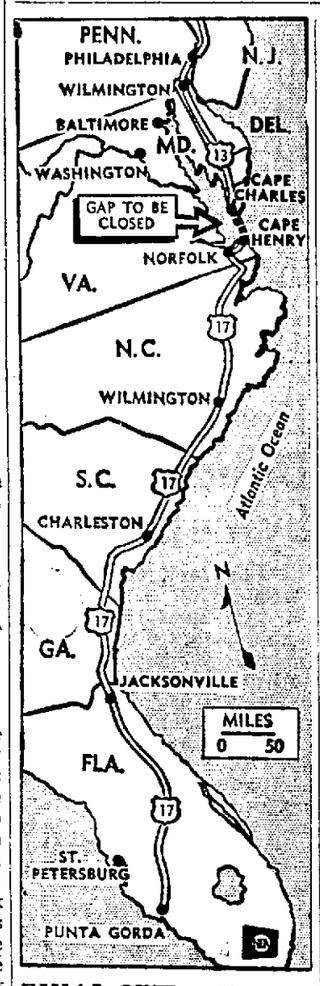

An Indian war bonnet hat comes in green-black cock feathers. There are also battered halos and unicorn hats pointing off the one side.

At least one cocktail sheath has a mink-banded hemline. A black oilskin suit with white looped wool collar and beret could brave all weathers, and a black crinkled Orlon dress successfully impersonates grained leather. There is also a suede cape coat. Basket-weave self material in border bands is frequently used as trim.

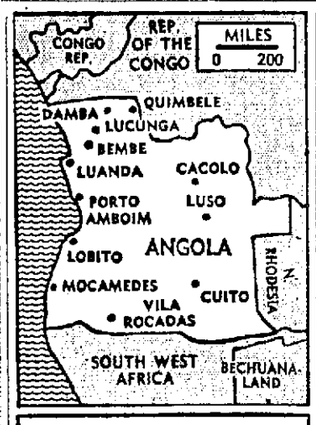

Bobble-ended chain necklaces are worn backward to give bare dresses up a tweed outfit.

A Bit of Life Around Arkansas

By BOB HARING
Associated Press Staff Writer

The Mount Nebo Chicken Fry is a blend of political rally, school carnival and community picnic.

It evokes the days when farmers would load the family onto a wagon to spend the day in town at the "Fall Festival." "Town Picnic" or similar gathering. But in place of ferris wheels and the gaudy lights of traveling shows at such affairs, Mount Nebo offers a few small boths resembling those put up for school carnivals and church bazaars.

There's plenty of the political rally air, though. County and local politicians from over the state gather to mend fences or make small point or seeking a favor.

When the governor and representative are present—as Gov. Orval E. Faubus and Rep. Dale Alford were last week — there's a bustle to spend a moment exchanging pleasantries, making a small point or seeking a favor.

Mount Nebo's affair is up-to-date, though. Chickens are fried in modern deep fat cookers and after the speech - making a small band swings into Dixieland.

But folks sit on the ground or on stones on the bluff overlooking Dardanelle and the Arkansas River and the audience for the speeches rests on crude lumber benches. Only the shorts - clad women and general costumes of both sexes keep the affair from resembling a picture of an old-time mountain gathering.

Many people spend the day. Many others drift in and out, up and down the twisting road up the mountain.

The Mount Nebo affair is only 13 years old (actually 11, because it was a fish fry for the first two years), but its origins lie deep in Arkansas tradition.

Mrs. Lydia Crost, secretary of the Sulphur Springs City Council, went to a community barbeque and suddenly found herself the official greeter.

Mayor E. L. Hathaway was out of town and officials notified Mrs. Crost that she was acting mayor and would have to deliver the official welcome. She rose to the occasoin with some off-the-cuff remarks, then resumed her dinner.

When 15-year-old Mack Young of near Sulphur Rock wants to go to town, he traves by goatmobile.

Mack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Young, has an 18-month-old goat named Bill trained to pull a cart. He makes about 10 miles an hour in the bicycle-tired cart.

Bill also helps with other chores around the farm seven miles from the community near Batesville and Mack says proudly, "He can do anything a horse can do."

President's Program Picks Up Speed

BY LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The diplomatic phase of President Kennedy's Berlin preparedness program picks up tempo today with the departure for Paris of a U.S. team headed by Assistant Secretary of State Foy D. Kohler.

In advance of Kohler's takeoff, Secretary of State Dean Rusk scheduled a midafternoon news conference at which reporters planned to ask about further steps in Kennedy's broad program of counter measures against the worldwide Communist threat.

Kohler and a half dozen aides will meet with diplomatic teams from Britain, West Germany and France to do advance work on the Western Big Four foreign ministers conference to be held in Paris August 58. Rusk leaves for the French capital next week.

At Paris, the Western foreign affairs chiefs will go over a broad range of the strategies aimed at keeping West Berlin out of Communist hands.

From Kennedy's standpoint, a major task was to get the North Atlantic Treaty allies to step up their defense efforts to the allies have responded favorably to Kennedy's ideas, but it remains to be seen what action they will take.

The President hoped that his increasd of U.S. defense levels by $3,454,600,000 and 217,000 men would serve as inspiring leadership to the 14 NATO partners.

And as an added lever in working up a stiffer NATO defense, he has left vague the exact amount of total contribution the United States is willing to put into he combined effor.

U.S. officials also were sympathetic toward helping Britain in the NATO stepup because of the financial predicament which has forced the English into an austerity program.

Kennedy made plain in his talk to the nation Tuesday night that he wants the NATO nations to hasten fulfillment of their long-run NATO military strength goal.

In the center of Europe, this means increasing the present strength of about 23 NATO divisions to the target of 30 divisions. Most of this buildup is due from West Germany.

There are 85 million Americans licensed to operate automobiles. This is 61 per cent of the country's adult population.

ing for withdrawal of French troops that occupied Bizerte city.

Couve de Murville in reply noted Hammarskjold's presence in Tunis at Bourguiba's invitation and said his letter "sems to me to expose the views of the Tunisian government." A government statement said the French forces would not quit Bizerte city — which lies astride the channel between the Mediterranean and the base—until peace is assured and the base's communications are guaranteed.

Tension continued in the battle-scarred city, where French gun emplacements ringed the walled Casbah still held by Tunisian troops. But the Tunisian government, after repeated warnings that a resumption of fighting was inevitable, appeared to be concerating on diplomatic warfare.

The Tunisian government, long one of the staunchest allies of the West in the Arab world, underscored a swingaway from the West.

Information Minister Mohamed Masmoudi made a point of announcing that Tunisia's relations with Red China were closer than ever. He emphasized that President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic, once Bourguiba's bitter enemy, had promised aid.

newspaper offices, where they see typesetting machines, Associated Press wires and other paraphanalia of the daily paper.

Often the small visitors go away awed by all the people and gadgets. But not one little girl, who wrote the newspaper she visited: "I enjoyed the tour very much. Now I know all about newspapers."

Phone Territory Transfer Out

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Public Service Commission Tuesday declined to transfer territory in Conway County to Arkansas Telephone Co. of Clinton. The PSC said to transfer the territory from Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. might jeopardize a Southwestern Bell plan to install exchanges at Cleveland and Center Ridge. A group of residents in and around Austin had asked the change.

Wants Hunt, Fishing Free for the Aged

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Cheap fishing and hunting licenses for persons 65 years of age and older are being advocated by Pike County Rep. Alvis W. Stokes.

Stokes said Wednesday he planned a petition campaign in an effort to get on the 1962 general election ballot a proposal to require the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission to provide such licenses.

Stokes wants the commission to issue a combination hunting and fishing license to the state's senior citizens. Only cost would be a small initial fee and the license would remain in force for life.

Hunting and fishing licenses now cost $2.50 each per year with no lower rates for older persons.

In disclosing plans for the petition campaign Stokes said, "I know about 50 members of the House who are ready to help."

In order to get the matter on the 1962 election ballot, Stokes said 28,698 petition signaures would be required. He said that would be 10 per cent of the total vote cast in the last gubernatorial election.

PSC Studies Truck Rate Proposal

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Public Service Commission is studying a request by some truck and rail carriers for a 50 - cent increase in minimum rates plus boosts in rates for less than car or truckload shipments. The PSC took the case under advisement Tuesday after a hearing at which opponents charged that in some cases the proposed new intrastate rates would exceed intrastate rates. Among opponents are the Little Rock and El Dorado Chambers of Commerce, the Fort Smith Freight Bureau and wholesale liquor distributors.

Deaths About the Nation

NEW YORK (AP)— Victor Wittgenstein, 75, a concert pianist, fell or jumped to his death Tuesday from a window of his 12th-floor apartment, police reported. Wittgenstein, who had suffered a heart attack recently, had been partially paralyzed.

Calendar

Thursday, July 27

The regular Country Club luncheon-bridge will be held at 12:30 p. m. Thursday, July 27. Hostesses will be: Mrs. Byron Hefner, Mrs. Lex Helms, Jr., and Mrs. James W. Branch.

Tuesday Bridge Club Meets With Mrs. Tom Wardlaw

On July 25 Mrs. Tom Wardlaw was hostess to a meeting of her Tuesday Bridge Club. Celosis and zinnias graced the home where two tables of club members enjoyed the afternoon.

High scorer was Mrs. Dewey Camp, and both Mrs. John Britt and Mrs. E. J. Whitman were winners. The hostess served apple pie a la mode for refreshments.

Mrs. George Robison Hostess to Tuesday Bridge Club

A local Tuesday Brioge Club met with Mrs. George Robison on July 25. As all members were present there were no club guest. Summer flowers enhanced the setting.

Mrs. Lyle Brown was high scorer, and Mrs. Syd McMath was second high. During the afternoon cold drinks were served the two tables of players.

Vic Powell mls Entertained

Mrs. E. P. O'Neal honored her grandson, Vic Powell, with a picnic and swimming party on his 11th birthday.The party was held at Fair Park on JJuly 21.

Those enjoying the picnic and swim were members of Cub Scout Pack 92, Den 5, and two other guests, Jack Turner and Neil E. Crow of Fort Smith. Den mother, Mrs. Bob Turner, asssited the hostess in serving the boys.

Miss Janell Robinson and Carroll Messer Exchange Vows

The marriage of Miss Letha Janell Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Robinson, to Carrol Roger Messer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Messer, was solemnized Sunday, July 23, at Unity Baptist Church.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Charles Jones of Saratoga, brother-in-law of the bride. Vows were exchanged before an arch of greenery flanked by baskets of white gladiolus. Mrs. Jack Brown, pianist, provided the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length dress of white silk oranza over white satin. It was fashioned with short sleeves and a scoop neckline edged in satin. A small white lei held her veil in place, and the bride's only jewelry was a single strand of pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a white circlet held her veil in place; the knots.

Miss Sue McIver was maid of honor. She wore a street-length dress of pink eyelet embroidery with a pink organdy overskirt. A small pink veil on her head completed her attire. She carried a bouquet of pink feathered carnations.

Delmar Lough served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Ray Honeycutt and John Gray.

A reception was held at Hope Country Club following the ceremony. Hostesses were Mrs. Fred Hunt, aunt of the bridegroom; Mrs. Carter Sutton, and Mrs. Howard Wright. Green and white was the color scheme used. White blossoms and white candles were used on the mantle with greenery.

Mrs. James Neal, cousin of the bridegroom, served the tiered wedding cake, and Mrs.L. K. Haltom of Magnolia, sister of the bride, served the punch. Miss Lila McCorkle, cousin of the bride, had charge of the bride's book.

Out-of-town guests included: Mr. and Mrs.Clyde Piercy of Ashdown and Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Halcom of Magnolia.

For travel the bride wore an orchid dress with white accessories and pinned the orchid from her bouquet at her shoulder. After a short wedding trip the newlyweds are at home at 209½ Shover St.

DOROTHY DIX

Takes Two to Break Up a Home!

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: A divorcee with five children sweet-talked my son into leaving his good, wonderful wife and two teenage youngsters. The divorcee's sister also runs around with a married man. Their mother, who's over 60, upholds them. Now my daughter-in-law has fallen ill and still this woman won't let go of my boy. We, his family, are all nervous wrecks as a result. Help if you can. — Worried Mother

Dear Worried Mother: There is such a thing as a wife being too good. The divorcee's appeal is evidently more physical than spiritual. If your daughter-in-law wants your son back, she'll need all her wiles to pry him loose. Even her illness, real though it may be, won't sway him in a situation like this, for he is a willing victim. I'm sending you a copy of my leaflet, "Marital Harmony," to give your daughter-in-law.

Dear Helen: Last night when my father came to pick up my girl friend and me at the block dance, a boy had his arm around me. I didn't think this was wrong, but the look on my father's face was frightening. After he took my girl friend home I tried to explain to him that this was the first time such a thing had happened. I am 15, the boy 17. We have known one another a long time. My father forbids me to see him any more and I'm not allowed to go to another dance. Do you think he is right? —Worried Girl

Dear Worried Girl: Your father was right in wanting to protect you from yourself and the boy. There might easily come a time when nature, not you, would take charge. But I don't agree with him about arbitrarily cutting off all your social contacts. He should have a substitute, like record hops and games in your own home. Girls, even more than boys, need the social ease which only comes with the experience of going to and giving parties. Your mother could help. Show her this column.

Confidential to Desperate: Poor darling, you're between the devil and the deep sea. But if your "husband" really loves you, and if his "wife" will go through with the divorce, it would be wise not to press the separation issue for your own as well as your unborn baby's sake. Bigamy is a crime and, if you so wished, you could send your "husband" to jail. You have the upper hand. Keep it.

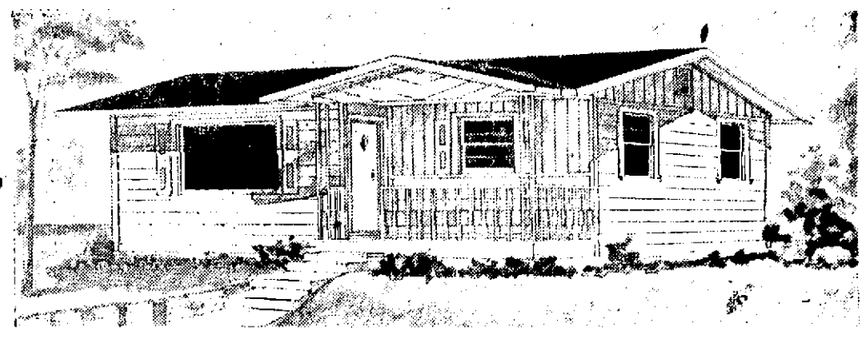

Send your problems to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available.

She'll Remember That Great Dane

BOSTON (AP)—A Boston hotel maid is still a litle shaky as a result of her encounter with the Great Dane which a blind Little Rock, Ark., couple uses as a guide dog.

The animal, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Frank McArty, cornered the maid, 32-year-old Joan Perkins, when she entered the McArty's room to make beds Tuesday.

An occupant of a neighboring room heard her screams and called police.

When officers arrived they found the dog had Miss Perkins backed against a wall. And that's the way she stayed for over an hour because police were afraid to startle the animal for fear he would attack her.

When the McArty's returned from their outing with relatvies they were able to calm the dog and officers escorted the frightened but unharmed maid from the room.

Madden Denies He Is a Gambler

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Owen (Owney) Madden, subpoenaed in a federal investigation of rackets, denied Tuesday that he is connected with any gambling operations here.

In an interview, Madden was asked if he was now engaged in any form of gambling. He replied, "No and you can tell that to the world and you can be sure of it."

Madden, reputed former big-time gangland figure, has been ordered to appear Aug. 8 before the Senate Rackets Committee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark. Also called was James Vitro of Hot Springs.

Madden was interviewed by a reporter from the Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Palmer Is Favorite in the PGA

By DON WEISS
Associaed Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—There's green grass, blue grass, brown grass, crdab grass and quack grass, but the brand that has the golfers at the PGA championship talking to themselves today is another kind—flying grass.

It doesn't have wings, but golf balls hit out of it on the lush, soft fairways at Olympia Fields' famed north course act like the though.

The way balls jump out of the flying grass on approach shots at the 6,722 yard, par 35-35—70 layout has been the main topic of conversation among the professionals who today played the first round of the 72-hole medal play tournament that ends Sunday.

Defending champion Jay Hebert, Arnold Palmer, the 5-1 favorite to add the PGA to his 1960 U.S. Open and Masters and 1961 British Open titles; South Africa's Gary Player, former PGA champion Bob Rosburg, former Masters champ Art Wall, and top tourists Ken Venturi and Bobby Goalby—each seems to feel the fellow who masters the grass will reach for the winner's check of about $10,000 late Sunday afternon.

"Flying grass," said Rosburg, "is the term we use for grass that doesn't hold the ball.

"The grass here is a bent type and it's so thin bladed that the ball nestles down in it. On your 6, 7 and 8 iron approaches, it's almost impossible to get any backspin on the ball—so you can't control the shot. There's overspin and the ball flies much farther than you expect it to."

Player felt the grass was affecting his chipping. So did Hebert and Goalby.

Palmer was asked his opinion during his final warmup.

On the previous hole, his 8-iron chip from about 25 yards off the green hit 15 feet short of the cup and kangaroo-bounced all the way to the back fringe—about 50 feet beyond the hole. Overspin out of the flying grass had caused a good chip to be a bad one.

"Did you see the last hole?" Palmer asked. Told yes, he grinned: "Then I guess you saw my answer."

Apartment Project Is Announced

MOUNTAIN HOME, Ark. (AP) —A Tulsa, Okla., man says a $4 million apartment project including an 11-story building will be built on the White River near here.

Richard Montgomery of Tulsa said Wednesday the project would be exclusively for retired persons. In addition to the 11-story apartment building, he said, the project will have 80 other apartment units in two-story buildings.

Montgomery said a contract has been awarded to Carpenter Construction Co. of Oklahoma City and that land clearing began Monday. Completion is expected within two years, he said.

The building is Riverside Esttes, Inc., a firm headed by Montgomery and Richard Wolf of Tulsa.

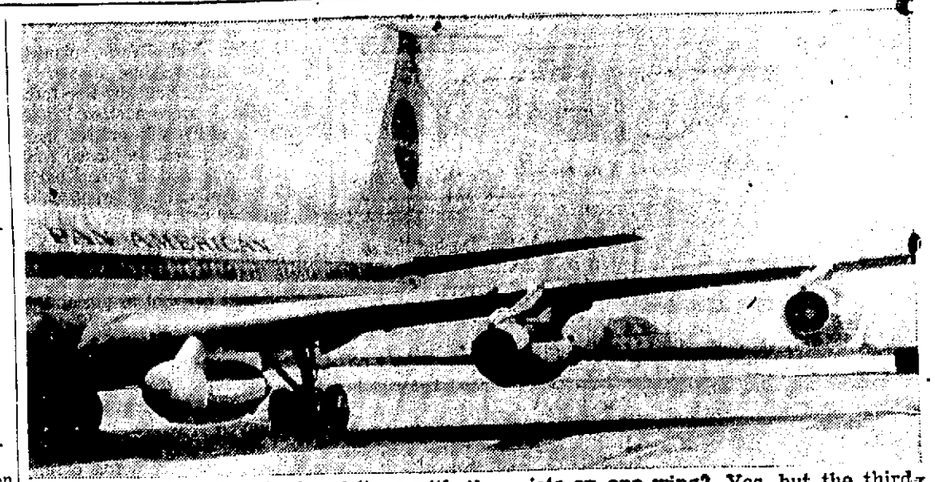

Site of the project is a 40-foot bluff overlooking the river about nine miles from here and about two miles from Cotter.

PSC Okays Phone Firm Borrowing

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Public Service Commission Wednesday authorized Prairie Grove Telephone Co. to borrow up toe $150,000 to finance an expansion program and refinance short term loans. The company operates in the Washington County communities of Prairie Grove, Lincoln, Farmington, Morrow and Dutch Mills.

Wants Okay to River Pipelines

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Public Service Coomission was asked Wednesday to approve the legality of pipelines across the Mississippi River by Tennesee Gas Transmision Co. and MidSouth Gas Co. a 1961 law gave the PSC authority over pipeline crossing navigable waters in Arkansas and the two firms are the first to file under it. Tennessee Gas has pipeline crossings in Chicot County and MidSouth has a crossing in Crittenden County.

CONTINENTAL SPARE—An airliner with three jets on one wing? Yes, but the third engine (nearest the fuselage) is actually a spare. It's carried in a special wing pod used to ferry extra engines from one point to another.

GO WEST, YOUNG NATION—Final figures of the 1960 census put the new center of U.S. population at a point near Centralia, Ill. The "population center" is defined as the geographic point where perfect balance would result if the nation were a plane and all citizens weighed the same. News-Graphic shows how the heavily populated east counterbalances the west. The new center is 57 miles farther west and 16½ miles farther south than it was in 1950, largely due to the admission of Alaska and Hawaii. It is also farther south than at any other time. Some experts believe the center will eventually stabilize near St. Louis, Mo.

Robinson Helps Redlegs Past the Braves

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cincinnati came within an eyelash of slipping out of first place in the National League Wednesday night, but once again Frank Robinson came to the rescue.

Robinson's two-run homer in the eighth, following a pinch homer by Gus Bell provided a 3-2 victory over Milwaukee and stayed off the onrushing Los Angeles Dodgers for at least one more day.

Norm Larker's grand slam home run converted Don Drysdale's five-hiter into a 6-1 victory over Philadelphia as the Dodgers won their eighth in the last nine starts. Drysdale was locked in a duel with Frank Sullivan, replacement for the injured Jim Owens, when Larker clouted his first grand slammer.

Pittsburgh snapped a five-game losing streak by downing San Francisco 8-3. Bob Friend, who gave up 12 hits, broke a tie with a two-out bases-loaded single in the sixth inning.

Bobby Will's pinch single off Lindy McDaniel with the bases full and two out in the 12th gave the Chicago Cubs a 7-6 decision over St. Louis.

The New York Yankees hit four home runs while downing Chicago 5-2 in the American League. Detroit remained a half game back by downing Los Angeles 5-4 for Frank Lary's 14th victory. Baltimore took two from Boston 5-1 and 6-2. Minnesota outslugged Washington 10-9 and Cleveland thumped Kansas City 12-5.

Milwaukee rookie Don Nottebart was shutting out the Reds 2-0 when Gus Bell went up to hit for Ken Johnson. Cincinnati's new pitcher from Toronto, in the eighth. Bell's homer into the right field bleachers took care of the shutout. The victory went to Johnson.

Friend got better as the game went along in Pittsburgh. Dick Lemay, victim of Friend's tie-breaking single, was the loser.

The winning spurt of the Cubs against the Cardinals started as Ron Santo singled with one out. He moved to second on an infield out and took third on a wild pitch. McDaniel then walked Ernie Banks and Ed Bouchee intentionally before Will came off the bench to win it for relief man Barney Schultz.

Patterson to Fight in October

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP)—Barring unforeseen developments, Floyd Patterson will defend his world heavyweight title against unbeaten Tom McNeeley in Boston Oct. 23 despite the threat of NBA action against the champion.

The National Boxing Association has threatened to strip Patterson of his title if he defends against McNeeley rather than one of the top-ranked challengers. McNeeley, unbeaten in 23 bouts, is not ranked.

A giant step toward making the fight a reality was accomplished Wednesday when the Massachusetts Boxing Commission—not a member of the NBA—granted a promoter's license to Championship Sports Inc., and a matchmaker's license to Al Bolan.

Neither Patterson nor McNeeley, from suburban Arlington, attended the three-minute meeting, and they have not yet signed the contracts for the fight.

Bolan, 32, however, said the signing is little more than a technicality.

"The contracts are in the hands of lawyers," the promoter said. "They are very complicated things. As soon as the lawyers get them straightened out, Patterson will come to Boston to sign."

McNeeley, a one-time Michigan

Pine Bluff and Paragould play at 6 p.m. Malvern meets the Fayetteville Whites at 8 p.m.

In other games Wednesday, Crossett eliminated Hope 5-2 and the Fayetteville Reds edged Batesville 2-1.

Blanchard Hits Homer to Help Yankees Win

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

New York and Detroit kept pace in the American League race Wednesday with the Yankees clinging to their half game lead. New York hit four homers while blasting Chicago 5-2 and Detroit used homers by Rocky Colavito and Al Kaline to ease Frank Lary's way to a 5-4 victory over Los Angeles.

Johnny Blanchard was the latest to earn a line in the record book. He hit two homers in successive turns at bat Wednesday in the New York victory over Chicago. Coupled with pinch homers Friday and Saturday in Boston, this gave Blanchard four homers on four consecutive appearances at bat. It was the 12th time it had been done. Ralph Kiner did it twice.

Mickey Mantle hit No. 39, only one behind Roger Maris' total of 40 in their exciting race to break Babe Ruth's record of 60, set in 1927.

Detroit remained right on the heels of the Yanks, trailing by only a half game when the Tigers defeated the Los Angeles Angels behind Frank Lary. Detroit also went to the homer with Rocky Colavito slamming No. 29 and Al Kaline No. 13.

Four Baltimore pitchers held Boston to eight hits in a doubleheader while the Orioles swept the pair 5-1 and 9-2. Billy Hoeft, Wes Stock and Hoyt Wilhelm teamed up with a two-hitter in the opener. Jack Fisher went all the way in the second with a six-hitter.

Wody Held and Jimmy Piersall each had four hits in Cleveland's 17-hit attack in a 12-3 victory over Kansas City. Gary Bell was the winner over Norm Bass in relief of Jim Archer.

Minnesota piled up an early lead, added four runs in the sixth and withstood a closing surge by Washington for a 10-9 decision. Ray Moore, fifth Twins' pitcher, finally saved Dagoberto Cueto's first major league victory. Dave Sisler lost in relief.

In the National League, Cincinnati remained one game in front of Los Angeles. The Reds rallied to nip Milwaukee 3-2 and the Dodgers beat Philadelphia 6-1. Pittsburgh broke a five game losing streak by defeating San Francisco 8-3 and Chicago edged St. Louis 7-6 in 12 innings.

Roland Sheldon pitched a four-hitter for the Yanks, easing along behind all those homers off loser Ray Herbert.

College Stars Called Best in 11 Years

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

RENSSELAER, Ind. (AP) — "The college All-Star squad is the best in at least 11 years," says George Halas, whose Chicago Bears are willing to agree with him.

Head Coach Otto Graham brought the collegians to the Bears training site at St. Joseph's College Wednesday in full-game scrimmage and they unveiled a passing attack to baffle the Bears to a 14-14 stalemate.

It was the All-Stars main lineup for their game with the Philadelphia Eagles, 1960 National Football League champions, in Soldier Field Aug. 4.

Defensively, the Collegians — fortified by such players as Emil Holub of Texas Tech, Joe Rutgens of Illinois, Claude Gibson of North Carolina State and Martin McKeever of Southern California —held the Bears to 77 yards running and 161 passing.

Offensively, quarterback Bill Kilmer of U.C.L.A., Norman Snead of Ohio State blew up quite a storm. After spotting the Bears a 14-0 lead, Kilmer completed eight out of 11 passes in an 80-yard scoring surge. His targets were Aaron Thomas of Oregon State, Mike Ditka of Pittsburgh, Pervis Atkins of New Mexico State and Blynn Gregory of Southern Methodist.

He took turns hitting them, with Pervis catching a 22-yard toss for the touchdown.

The collegians evened it up in the fourth period on a 75-yard drive in 12 plays. Matte started it and led the team to the Bear 35 with a 13-yard fla pass to Navy's Joe Bellino.

Then Kilmer came in again, spearing the elusive Bellino twice to reach the 4. From there, Atkins barrelled across.

Travelers Beaten in 14th Inning

By VERNON BUTLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Now it appears that the first 10 days of August may do a lot to settle that head-to-head run Chattanooga and Birmingham are making at the Southern Association pennant.

The top contenders closed out their season play against each other with three games in Birmingham beginning Aug. 1 and four in Chattanooga starting Aug. 7. 3 3

They were still in a virtual tie for first place today with Chattanooga clinging to a lead of one percentage point after shading the Atlanta Crackers 4-3 in 11 innings. Birmingham decked Shreveport 6-2 as ace right-hander Howe Koplitz recorded his 15th victory. Nashville blanked Mobile 7-0 on Glen Crable's six-hitter, and Macon outlasted Little Rock 7-4 in 14 innings. Lou Skizas got the victory blow, a three-run homer for the Peaches.

Circulars to Tell of Big Occasion

HARRISON, Ark. (AP) — More than 40,000 persons in Harrison's eight county trade area are due to receive circulars notifying them of a "grand reopening" Sept. 6-9 marking the receovery from a disastrous flood. Eighty per cent od Harrison's business district was destroyed May 7 when normally-peaceful Croked Creek roared out of it banks and swept over the downtown area. Virtually all stores damaged by the flood will be back in business by September, a Chamber of Commerce spokesman said.

Legion Team Slips Past Arkadelphia

In Hope's second game of the District Tourney the Junior Legion slipped by Arkadelphia in an exciting game 2 to 1.

Hope's two came in the fifth when Ford Ward, who singled, and Gary Barrow, who got a fielder's choice, came in on errors by the third-baseman. Several times both teams had men in scoring position, but were unable to get them home. Hope got five hits from Arkadelphia, coming from David Moore wit htwo singles, and Ward, Robey, and McMurtrey, each with one.

Gus Robey hurled all nine for the locals and struck out 18 while yielding only four hits.

The team goes t oCamden again tonight for the final round of play.

County Road Work at Half Way Mark

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Highway Department is almost to the halfway point in complying with a state law requiring it to spend $100,000 on road work in each county, Director F. R. Oliver said Wednesday.

Oliver said that since last December, more than $7.2 million in secondary road work in 34 counties has been placed under contract in compliance with the 1961 act. Some projects cost more than the minimum of $100,000 per county set by the legislature, which gave the Highway Department two years to fulfill the provisions of the law.

A related Highway Department report showed Wednesday that $89.6 million worth of work has been programmed on 1,255 miles of primary and secondary state highways. This total does not include interstate highway work.

The report said 2,349 miles of the state's 11,149 miles of highway still is unpaved and that an original target date of 1961 for having all state roads paved had been set back to 1966. This, it said, because 1,116 miles of highway has been added to the state system and because the division of highway revenues has been changed.

The report said that its long-range program, including paving, had had to be modified in some counties to meet the provisions of the new law

Easy To Make Summer Refresher

Bring on a big frosty pitcher of lemon-lime beverage and tall glasses filled to the brim with shaved ice. Tuck a sprig of fresh mint into each glass. Thanks to instant soft drink mix, this refreshing drink can be made at a moment's notice with any one of a variety of flavors.

Minted Cooler

1 cup boiling water
6 to 8 fresh mint leaves
1¾ quarts cold water
1 package lemon-lime instant soft drink mix
1 cup sugar

Pour boiling water over mint leaves. Cover and let stand 10 minutes. Remove and discard leaves. Cool the minted water; then combine with cold water. Add lemon-lime instant soft drink mix and sugar; stir until dissolved. Chill. To serve, pour over ice cubes or crushed ice. If desired, garnish with sprig of mint. Makes 2 quarts.

An Account of Plane Hijacking

Editors: Following is a North Miami each man's account of the hijacking of an airliner he was riding, and his experience as a guest and sharp questioner of Castro Cubans at Havana.

By AL LANKEN
As told to The Associated Press

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—There was steak for lunch and steak for supper. And daiquiri cocktails.

"How is the food Everyone in Cuba eats like this," one of our heavily armed guards told me. Then he asked, "Are you going to tell the people back in Florida about it" I think they were trying to counteract the stories about food shortages in Cuba.

Another thing — the Cubans I talked with insisted absolutely, positively that communism does not exist in Cuba. It's socialism, they told me.

All this while Fidel Castro and a big crowd of Cubans stood in a pouring rain to welcome Yuri Gagarin, the Russian astronaut who arrived at Jose Marti Airport shortly after our hijacked Miami-to-Tampa airliner was forced to land.

When the gunman took over on the plane, I don't believe anyone knew what was going on and even the hostess "Casey" (Joan) Jones only surmised something was afoot.

After the hijacker locked himself and the pilots in the cockpit, Miss Jones sat down beside me in seat No. 8, about midway of the airliner.

"You know what I can't get into the cockpit," she told me. "Why not telephone I asked. "I tried to but I can't get through," she replied, and added, "Maybe I'll see you in Havana."

Sometime after that the no-smoking and fasten-seat-belts signs went on although we were flying at 12,000 or 13,000 feet. I knew then that something was amiss. The pilot announced over the public address system that he was proceeding to Havana at gunpoint, and advised all of us to do nothing and remain calm.

Everybody did just as he said. In fact the only comment I heard was from someone a seat or two away saying, "Boy, we've had it today."

At Havana we were taken out three at a time and were carried in Jeeps and cars to the airport buildings where we saw men, women and kids all wearing guns.

At the airport hotel the passengers were all isolated from everyone. We got extremely courteous treatment but every request we made—even to go to a rest room—touched off a conference. They couldn't seem to give a srtaight answer.

I think I was the first to ask permission to make a telephone call to tell my wife, Christine, that I was OK. They turned that down. Later after I got chummy with some of the guards I renewed the request but after a huddle, they said no.

I'm heading out on my rounds again representing a televisino film distributing company. This time I'm bound for Atlanta.

The planes traveling that way aren't likely to get hijacked I guess, unless someone is looking for a free trip to Red China.

$4 Million Project on White River

MOUNTAIN HOME, Ark. (AP) — A $4 million apartment project is under construction on White River near this mountain town, a Tulsa promoter said Wednesday.

Richard Montgomery of Tulsa said the project, for retired persons exclusively, would feature an 11-story apartment building, tallest structure in north Arkansas. He said it would have 80 other two-story apartment units.

Site of the project is a 40-foot bluff overlooking the river about a mile of Highway 62. It is nine miles from here and two miles from Cotter.

Montgomery said it is to be completed within two years. He said a contract has been let to Carpenter Construction Co. of Oklahoma City and that land clearing began Monday.

Associated with Montgomery is Richard Wolf of Tulsa. They led in formation of Riverside Estates, Inc., which is building the project, Montgomery said.

Montgomery said the project would provide housing for about 540 persons.

Youth's Injuries Prove Fatal

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Carl Standridge, 16, of Scottsville (Pope County) died today in a hospital here of injuries sustained in an automobile accident Sunday night.

He and Dolan Rich, 18, of Wit Springs, were injured when the car in which they were riding overturned on a curve near Hector on Highway 27. It was not known which youth was driving. Rich was released from a hospital Tuesday.

Act Normal and You Are Suspected

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Once upon a time there was a man who set out to be popular and well-liked.

His name was Mortimer Witherspoon Thrope.

He went to the public library and read a book on how to become popular and successful.

"The way to be popular is to be normal," the book said. "Just act as a normal, balanced civilized individual should act and you're bound to be well-liked."

So Thrope faithfully followed the book's advice. He decided to become the most normal individual in his community.

Mortimer married a girl who was neither homely nor pretty—just average.

They had three children, all of whom got medium grades in school.

Mortimer bought a standard-sized house with a standard-sized mortgage in a standard neighborhood.

He drove a medium-sized car—neither too dull nor too flashy—and traded it in on a new one every three years.

He joined the Elks, the PTA, and the American Legion. He was good to serve on committees but always declined to run for office in any of these organizations. "Oh, there must be someone else better qualified," he said, modestly.

He subscribed to a book club, but carefully avoided reading any of the selections—unless they hit the best seller list.

Mortimer always—or almost always—got up to give his seat to an old lady on the bus, particularly if anyone from his neighborhood was on the bus too.

He always arrived on the job promptly at 5:30. "I get paid for doing a full day's work—and I like to give it to them," he said.

When the boss told a joke in a conference, Mortimer was the second employe to start chuckling and the next to the last to quit laughing.

At cocktail parties Mortimer got high but never loaded, and never bragged about himself. "Tell me about yourself—you must have had an interesting life," he urged those he met.

After 15 years of exemplary living, Mortimer suddenly awoke to the fact that instead of being widely popular, he was being avoided, even by old acquaintances. They seemed uneasy in his presence.

So Mortimer hired a public relations man to find out why. This individual made a secret survey of Mortimer's neighborhood and office and came back with his report.

"They think you're to good to be true, Mr. Thrope. They don't trust you. They think you must be hiding something."

Moral: If you want to be popular, be different. Everyone suspects anyone who acts too normal.

Arkansan Faces Murder Charge

EXETER, Calif. (AP)—A preliminary hearing for William S. Moore, Arkansas ex-convict, on a murder charge has been continued until Aug. 2.

More had been due for a hearing Wednesday on the charge in connection with the fatal beating of his sister last Thursday. Moore, 40, admitted the slaying, officers said.

Moore was paroled in 1960 from a murder sentence in conection with the 1946 slaying of his brother in White County, Ark.

Finds Way to Send Books to S. Africa

CANOGA PARK, Calif. (AP)—It took her seven months, but Judy has found a way to deliver six tons of books to Africa.

In May 1960 Judy, then a junior at Canoga Park High School, saw an appeal to send books to Africa. She enlisted a group of her journalism classmates, and became chairman of the school's books for Africa drive.

The drive started in a small way—a few books here, a few there. A Los Angeles bookstore went out of business and donated 300 volumes. Then Judy found a way to get books rejected by the Los Angeles City Library.

Clubs heard of the drive, and the books piled higher in a bungalow on the school campus. Judy decided to see about getting them to Africa.

"I started writing letters in December," she said. "I kept writing them and writing them and writing them.

"The books just kept coming in and coming in.

"We kept trying for transportation. We didn't know what to do."

She wrote President Kennedy, his reply said to try the U.S. Information Agency.

The USIA liked the idea, but wanted new books, Judy said.

G. Menen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, said he was enthusiastic.

"He told us to let him know and he'd see what he could do," she said. "I'm sort of mad about that, because I wrote four times, even registered one letter, and never hard from him."

Then the Navy said it could ship the books from Norfolk, Va., to one of several African ports through its "Operation Handclasp."

Getting them to Virginia remained a problem until last weekend, when a large organization said it would send them across the country.

Local civic groups and the paper for which she works, the Woodland Hills Democrat, have started fund drives to pay the $500 freight

It's Cool Dining On The Patio

As the hot summer sun goes down and the cool evening breezes start to blow, it's the time of day to enjoy a leisurely supper on the patio.

Meals during this season of the year are a challenge to homemakers. They must require little kitchen preparation time and be appealing to tempt summer-jaded appetites. There's nothing like the magic of a refreshing molded salad. It supplies the cool inviting touch that makes eating a pleasure despite the weather.

For a picture-pretty salad and one that requires little preparation time, delight all with one borrowed from South-of-the-Border... Gazpacho Salad. A colorful blend of canned condensed tomato soup jellied and studded with crisp chopped cucumber, onion and green pepper, it's the perfect accompaniment to a platter of sliced cold ham and turkey.

Finish off your patio supper with brownies (made from a mix) a la mode and tall glasses of refreshing iced coffee.

Gazpacho Salad

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
½ cup cold water
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed tomato soup
1 tablespoon vinegar
Dash salt
Dash Tabasco
⅔ cup chopped cucumber
⅔ cup finely chopped green pepper
¼ cup minced onion
Crisp salad greens

In saucepan, soften gelatine in cold water. Place over low heat, stirring until gelatine is dissolved. Remove from heat; stir in soup, vinegar, salt, and Tabasco. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in cucumber, green pepper, and onion. Pour into a 3-cup mold. Chill until firm. Unmold; serve on salad greens. Makes 4 servings.

About Time U. S. Got Started

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — Thirty-five year old Gus Grissom flew 300 miles down the Atlantic missile range at heights beyond 100 miles and speeds breasting 5,200 mph. For the first few minutes he was bosted upward on a 180,000 horsepower pillar of flame called the Redstone rocket. Smashing down through the thick air in which we live, he pulled 11 g's — as if ten Gus Grissoms were sitting on his chest.

He called it a breeze. The other astronauts would have given an arm to be in his place.

On the water, the hatch of his space chariot exploded away, the sea came in and the thing sank in 2,800 fathoms of forbidding Atlantic water. Grissom swam away from it in the 20-pound armor of his space suit, was plucked from the water by a line flung from an ear-spitting helicopter just overhead, and minutes later bounded out on the deck of the carrier Randolph.

We repeat these now familiar facts as a prelude to a question. The question is, how microscopic is the percentage of Americans physically and spiritually able to duplicate the stresses and strains an astronaut must undergo? Admittedly, they are a special breed of cat, the cream of the cream of what was originally a crop of more than 100 hot test pilots and aeronautical engineers.

But Grissom's performance brought sharply back to mind a sobering talk we had recently with Bud Wilkinson, Oklahoma's great football coach who has taken on the thankless task of trying to explain to educators and plain people what the President's Committee on Youth Fitness is all about. Bud's a committee adviser.

Wilkinson said tests show the youth of the U.S. is bordering on alarming physical rot. To millions of our sedantary, luxury seeking kids—selfdiscipline is an antique as long drawers and pitching hay.

He sees this latter failing as even more calamitous than the physical softness its lack engenders. He feels it is unquestionably behind the decline of morality in the juveniles.

Sampling show that an average of 58 per cent of American school children picked at random failed to perform the simple bending and sit-up exercises of Kraus-Weber test, while only eight per cent of European youngsters of the same age group failed.

"We live in a mother-oriented society now," Bud told us. "Mom doesn't want to see junior exposed to energetic activities. Junior tends to agree. He must have power steering, to keep from exercising his arms. Mom used to have to walk to eight different parts of the kitchen to make a cake. Now she gets it all in one box.

"If everyone in Oklahoma was as concerned about the physical fitness of their children as they are about whether we'll beat Tex as, we'd really be getting somewhere."

It's a difficult program to sell to an increasingly listless youth, busy and indifferent parents, and schol authorities who are allergic to advice from outsiders — especially if the outsider has the blessing of the federal government.

But Wilkinson is giving it his all. He and his associates are out to illuminate the irrefutable fact that most schools in the land have adequate athletic gear and facilities only for those who least need them — the gifted minority which makes up the varsity. He believes there should be a dozen football teams in each high school, not just the few. "We're too self-centered."

He hopes for a day when all schools will adopt a program now being worked out which would provide a physical fitness period in each day's curriculum and a system of marking and grading those who take part. Physical defects should be screened and corrected as vigorously as bad sight and bad reading skills are now tracked down.

"Seems to be we now have a choice," Bud drawled. "We either learn to discipline ourselves as a nation or somebody will come along and discipline us. Forty-three years ago those Communists had Lenin and 17 other fellows. Now they've got four out of every ten people in the world. It's time to get off our duffs."

Knows of No 50c Per Hour Cases

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Min., said today he knows of no case in Arkansas where Mexican farm laborers are paid less than 50 cents an hour.

But he said information from the Labor Department showed that in early June the prevailing wage for U.S. farm workers for chopping cotton was less than 50 cents an hour in three Arkansas counties.

McCarthy said the department reported that 30 cents an hour was the prevailing rate in Crittenden and Phillips counties and 40 cents in Mississippi County, for domestic cotton choppers.

"This would indicate, McCarthy told a reporter, "that American laborers are being offered less than Mexicans are being paid."

McCarthy's office said a misinterpretation of the figures, which he inserted in the Congressional Record last week, was responsible for an impression that Mexican workers were being paid less than the prevailing wage in the three counties.

To Increase Power

SPINAGAR, Kashmir (AP) — The Indian government plans to build several small hydroelectric power plants in the Himalayan area of Ladakh, just west of Tibet.

Convinced Man Wasn't Anti-U. S.

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — Investigators here were convinced today that Saino Zazzara, 22, had no anti-American motives but certainly had a mad desire to fly when he terrorized an airport crowd at gunpoint in a suicidal mood.

Zazzara, who told investigators his wife had threatened divorce, aimed a loaded pistol at Capt. Emil Spadoni, the copilot of an otherwise empty Mohawk airliner Tuesday night and demanded to fly the plane.

Sheriff's men conquered him, however, and he was taken to a hospital for mental observation.

About 150 persons crouched behind hiding places after Zazzara, flashing his gun, ran through the waiting room to the plane, shoving aside waiting passengers.

The sheriff's department dismissed an early suspicion that Zazzara, who works for his father's bakery in Ithaca, N.Y., had intended to hijack the commercial airliner for Fidel Castro's forces in Cuba.

In Albany, the Federal Bureau of Investigation would say only that it was investigating for possible violation of federal law. An FBI agent interviewed Zazzara.

Zazzara, father of a 2-year-old daughter, told sheriff's men he had flown a light plane for a few hours and wanted to try a big plane before killing himself because his wife was leaving him.

Worst Rains

SAPPORO, Japan (AP)—Eleven persons were dead or missing today following the heaviest rainfall in 29 years on the northernmost Japanese island of Hokkaido. Three of the missing were miners trapped in a coal pit that was flooded when the weight of a swollen river overhead collapsed the ceiling.

Ft. Smith Counts Population Again

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Fort Smith is making what it hopes will be a profitable nose-count.

The city is conducting a special census. It expects to find that population has increased by several thousand residents since the regular national census April 1, 1960. If population has increased, the city stands to gain several thousand dollars in revenue.

The city gets about $7.50 a year for each resident from various state funds.

Counting began Tuesday. Fort Smith had 52,991 population in the 1960 census. It has added several new industries since that time.

Tourist Record

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A record 20.4 million tourists entered Mexico through Tijuana in a 12-month period that ended June 30. The government says the figure represents a 10 per cent gain over the previous 12 months.

Gassville Plans Big Celebration

GASSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The 233 people of this mountain community are planning a big ground breaking Friday to celebrate award of the first aid under a new federal redevelopment act.

The director of the new Area Redevelopment Administration, William Batt Jr. of Washington, will be on hand for the turf-turning to mark the start of work on a water system needed to secure a new shirt factory.

The agency approved a $31,000 loan and $129,000 grant to help pay for the water system, the first project approved under the law.

Officials of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission and some other state officers are expected to be present, too.

Four counties shared in the loan and grant — Marion, Baxter, Newton and Searcy — because the anticipated 1,000 employes of the Mar-Bax Shirt Co. are expected to come from that area. Marion and Baxter counties joined to approve $535,000 in bond issues to help finance construction of the plant.

Gassville was chosen because it is near the Marion-Baxter county line, 20 miles south of the Missouri border, and easily accessible to the other counties.

But Gassville didn't have enough assessed valuation to finance construction of a water system and insurance companies insisted that the factory have plenty of water available.

The four counties applied for the federal assistance before Congress passed the law setting up the agency.

Royal Decree

DAMASCUS (AP) — Mecca Radio announced that King Saud of Saudi Arabia signed a royal decree Tuesday setting up a supreme defense council with himself as chairman. The radio said the council held its first session today to draw up a new long-range defense policy for the Saudi army and plans to improve its armament and fighting strength.

Legion Meeting to Open Thursday

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus, Rep. Dale Alford and Harding College President George S. Benson will be featured speakers at the state American Legion convention opening here Thursday.

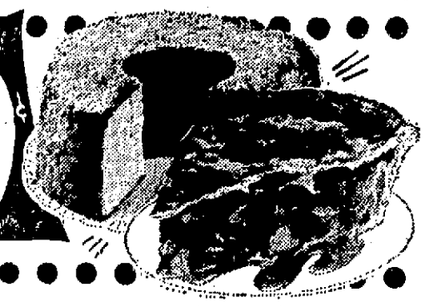

Benson will receive the state Legion's Americanism Citation at the annual dinner meeting Friday night at which he will speak. Faubus will address a Friday morning session and Alford will speak Saturday morning.

Previous winners of the Americanism award have been Sen. John L. McClellan, the late Col. T. H. Barton of El Dorado, Gov. Orval E. Faubus and C. Hamilton Moses of Little Rock.

Chicken and Beef Top Meat Buys

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Abundant and cheap, beef continues its reign as chief of the weekend specials at supermarkets and neighborhood stores this week.

Top grade steaks and roasts are the cheapest in 15 years.

The price of grain-fed steers recently fell to $23.50 per 100 pounds at Chicago, the lowest since World War II. Heavy supplies have driven prices down.

Supermarkets are featuring sirloin, porterhouse and round steak and rib, chuck and round roasts.

Fowl runs beef a close second in popularity at this time. The chains are offering fryers and roasting chickens, turkeys and ducks.

Hams and leg of lamb also are among the specials.

In the East, crabmeat, shrimp, scallops and smelt are featured.

With hot weather cutting into production, egg prices rose two to four cents a dozen.

New arrivals continue to flood the vegetable and fruit markets.

Best buys among vegetables are beets, beans, cabbage, bulk carrots, nearby celery, chinese cabbage, corn, endive, escarole, green onions, dry onions, all nearby lettuce, parsley, peppers, potatoes, tomatoes and watercress.

Good buys are broccoli, carrots in film bags, cauliflower, celery, cucumbers, kale, collards, mustard and turnip greens, eggplant, California iceberg lettuce, mushrooms, Western dry onions, okra radishes and spinach.

Best buys among fruits are blueberries, mangoes, limes, peaches, strawberries and watermelons.

Apples, cantaloupes, honeydew melons, grapes, plums and apricots are good buys.

$2,536 Claim Is Settled for $1

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—"I would like very much," wrote William E. Ashby, 95, to the Polk County Board of Supervisors "to get this claim settled if possible before I pass away."

The board voted to settle the $2,536 claim for $1. An unidentified county official then paid the dollar.

Ashby owed the county $6,138 for treatment of his late wife, Bessie, at a state mental hospital. He had paid $3,602.

Letter Told All About the Robbery

NEW YORK (AP) —"We may wind up in jail for a long time. We may get killed. But we'll get the money."

These were the closing lines in a letter that Richard James, 25, wrote—but never mailed—to his mother prior to a dramatic, bullet-punctuated $15,515 robbery of a West 23rd Street bank Tuesday.

James was captured. His partner, Lawrence Williams, 26, died in a gun battle with police across from crowded Pennsylvania Station only moments after the robbery.

Police found the letter in James' room, along with detailed maps and plans for subsequent holdups of two other West Side banks.

The two bandits, Negroes, used a taxicab for what apparently was their first journey into bank-robbing. James remained outside the Broadway Savings Bank while Williams, armed with a sawed-off shotgun and a .45 caliber pistol, went in.

In a loud voice, Williams commanded a teller to fill a bag with money. Then he threw a smoke bomb to obscure his movements.

The bank's assistant secretary, Walter Engkjer, 52, was shot in the leg when he grabbed a gun and rushed at Williams as the robber fled outside and joined his companion in the cab.

Police cornered the bandits at Eighth Ave. and 33rd St., across from the rail terminal.

James burst into the street with his hands up and surrendered. Williams came out shooting, and died in a hail of bullets.

Police recovered all but $4,756 of the money.

Brownies Make News

SOMETHING NEW HAS BEEN ADDED to America's favorite brownies—and it's potato chips, of all things!

Potato chip brownies are something pretty special. They're made with unsweetened chocolate, of course, chopped nuts . . . and then, for intriguing flavor and texture . . . a half cup of finely crumbled potato chips. Next time you bake brownies try this recipe and see if anyone can guess what makes them just a little bit different—and so very good.

POTATO CHIP BROWNIES

4 squares Baker's Unsweetened Chocolate
½ cup shortening
2 cups sugar
4 eggs, well beaten
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup flour
½ cup finely crumbled potato chips
½ cup chopped nuts

Melt chocolate and shortening over hot water. Cool. Add sugar gradually to beaten eggs. Beat until well blended. Then add the cooled chocolate, salt, and vanilla. Stir in flour, potato chips, and chopped nuts. Pour into a greased 13x9x2-inch pan. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) for 35 to 40 minutes. Cool in pan. Cut into squares. Makes about 30 brownies.

Turning Point for Nation Indicated

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was clear in President Kennedy's address to the nation Tuesday night that he sought a psychological effect. But it wasn't clear what practical effect can there be in increasing the armed forces by only 217,000 men.

At least he indicated the United States may have reached a turning point.

For years now this country has simply been reacting to Russian actions, dancing when the Russians called the tune. Judging from Kennedy's talk, the United States will now start showing some initiative in dealing with the Soviets.

But his address, tough as it was in warning the Russians they can't take Berlin without a fight, still left the door wide open for a conference with them to settle the dispute peacefully.

At one point Kennedy even indicated the West might be willing to make concessions—but not major ones—to avoid conflict. Just how far he is willing to go with concessions—or being tough — is for the future.

But there could be no doubt he had three targets and three psychological aims:

1. The American people—to prepare them perhaps for rougher things to come by telling them the administration intends to take they have war on their hands if it means a military showdown with Russia.

2. The Russians—to let them know, if they think the allies lack the will to fight and that threats can scare and split them, that they hae war on their hands if they push too hard.

3. The allies—to stiffen their backbone, by putting the United States firmly beside them, and at the same time needle them, even embarrass them, into doing more for their own defense by increasing their own military preparations.

Are the Russians going to be impressed by Kennedy's announcement he is adding 217,000 men to the armed forces — particularly when he didn't say he's sending them to Europe where the Russians far out number the allies in ground forces

If they are impressed it will probably be more by Kennedy's expressed determination not to be pushed out of Berlin, leaving it up to them to guess what kind of force the United States would use to stop them.

In any showdown it is unlikely Kennedy would try to stop the Soviets with ground troops.

Two years ago—which was the last time the Russians threatened Berlin—President Eisenhower rejected arguments of his critics that the United States should make a big ground-force buildup in Europe to chill Russia's blood.

He said March 11, 1959 that such a build-up was unnecessary because "we are certainly not going to fight a ground war in Europe." This could be interpreted as meaning that if war came it would have to be a nuclear one.

Just a few months after that Kennedy—on Dec. 9, 1959, while he was still a senator—was asked if the United States was in a position to fight any kind of war for Berlin except a nuclear one. He said no.

It's possible he has changed his mind, for he said Tuesday night "we intend to have a wider choice than humiliation or all-out nuclear action."

But if he knows how the allies tremendously outnumbered on the ground, could hope to stop the Russians short of nuclear war he didn't explain that.

He may have meant that by taking the tough line he followed he hopes to convince the Russian he means business and that the way to avoid a nuclear war is not to start any kind of war.

Icebergs Hard on Undersea Cable

OTTAWA (AP)—Icebergs bulldozing through Davis Strait have several times cut the undersea cable carrying vital radar information from Thule, Greenland, to the North American Air Defense Command authoritative sources here have disclosed.

Thule is the site of one of the Ballistic Missile Early Warning radars and would provide some 15 minutes' warning of an intercontinental missile attack on North America.

As important as the radar itself is the means to relay the information it gathers to headquarters of North American Air Defense Command at Colorado Springs, Colo.

It is not known whether the difficulty posed by cable cuts caused by icebergs has been finally overcome. Northern experts were sent to try to find a deeper channel for the submarine cable.

Tribute Paid to Eddie Canton

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Stage and screen friends of Eddie Cantor paid tribute Tuesday night to the comedian's 50 years in show business.

But one guest couldn't make it—Cantor.

His wife, Ida, said the veteran showman was confined to his home with a virus infection.

The "Eddie Cantor Golden Jubilee Salute," staged at the Ambassador Hotel, was arranged by singer Eddie Fisher and a committee of industrialists and show business figures that included Jack Benny and George Jessel.

Philippines Punish Boxers

MANILA (AP)—The Philippine Boxing Commission barred Oscar Reyes, the islands' junior lightweight champion, for life Wednesday and declared his title vacant because he failed to heed the referee's orders to fight in a July 15 fight at Quezon City.

Little Cezar, the Filipino featherweight champion and Reyes foe in the July 15 bout, was stripped of his title and suspended for a year. Both were thrown out of the ring in the eight round by the referee and the bout declared no contest.

Summer lingerie should be cool, lightweight and still provide a gentle shaping for the figure. Under this sheath with easy lines (left) goes a featherweight girdle-and-bra team. Slim lines of this print linen sheath (center) require corselet of lightweight fibers. Boning is out and comfort is in. Custom-made feeling comes (right) with this new panty girdle. It permits the wearer to switch garters around to any spot she prefers. Tiny openings all along the leg bands make this possible. Look for pastels and prints when you shop for lingerie this summer.

Short Short Story

Being realists, as children are, they exchanged secret looks.

FAIR EXCHANGE PLUS
By LESTER ARNO

Bill and Mary Ray were not speaking. They had stopped speaking to each other shortly after Bill had entered the house.

The following dialogue was the cause:

Bill: Of all the rotten days in all the rotten businesses—this was the worst!

Mary: I suppose you think I've been lolling on my chaise lounge all day, listening to the symphony on FM, eating petit-fours and brushing my golden locks?

The children, Junior and Peggy, were uncomfortable. Being realists, as children are won't to be, they exchanged secret looks and made themselves scarce.

The rest of the evening went as badly as possible, which was pretty bad considering that Bill and Mary Ray were very normal young people.

It all might have passed as had other little misunderstandings between them. They might have gone to bed in silence, but the humor and the good nature in each would have triumphed and they would have made it up between them before they finally fell asleep.

The following dialogue ruined what-might-have-been:

Bill: I never said anything about your lolling on your chaise lounge. Besides, we haven't got one of the darn things anyway.

Mary: I know we haven't. But the way you carry on about your job maybe we would to have one so that you could accuse me of doing nothing all day while you slave.

Bill: I suppose you don't think I work like a slave? I suppose you think that designing women's dresses is play?

Mary: Well, since you've asked for my opinion, I don't think designing dresses is any harder than running a house and raising two children. The way you act, I have nothing to do from morning till night.

Bill: Oh, I know how heavy your burden is.

Mary: And I know what a strain you are under.

Bill: I'd just like to see you tackle my job for one day!

Mary: And I'd like to see you run this house for one day!

Mary slammed the bathroom door and Bill took the bedclothes off his bed and stomped down the stairs.

He spent the night on the family-room sofa.

Bill caught cold that night and couldn't go to work the next morning, and Mary had to take his sketches down to work for him. Bill was house-bound and couldn't just lie in bed, so he cooked dinner.

A leading American magazine has just published an article on Bill and Mary Ray.

Its title is "More Than A Fair Exchange."

The part of the article about Bill tells how he stayed home for five days nursing his cold. It describes how he began experimenting with herbs and spices. And there is a picture of Bill in a chef's cap. He's holding a cookbook in his hand. The book jacket shows the title very plainly. It reads, "Man . . . King of The Kitchen", another cookbook by the renowned authority on home-cooking, William Ray."

Bill and Mary's dinners are always highly successful.

Charge Filed in Plane Hijacking

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The FBI filed kidnaping and other charges here today against Wilfredo Roman Oquendo, 36, Cuban-born waiter, in connection with Monday's hijacking of an Eastern Air Lines plane.

Richard S. Beier of the FBI office reported investigation showed that Oquendo, a naturalized American citizen, was aboard the kidnaped plane under the name of J. Marin.

FBI agents prepared charges of kidnaping, crime on the high seas (assault to commit a felony), assault with a deadly weapon, and interstate transportation of stolen aircraft against Oquendo.

The FBI said its investigation indicated Oquendo is a past member of the Cuban secret police under the regime of ex-President Carlos Prio Socarras, and is a member of Fidel Castro's "26th of July" movement, whose anniversary is being celebrated today in Cuba.

"He and his wife made frequent visits to Cuba in the past few years," said the FBI release.

Recommended bond for Oquendo is $100,000, the informatoin said.

The FBI acted after receiving a report from Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy in Washington that investigations led by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover had determined the passenger's identity.

Agents said Oquendo had been in the United States 15 years, is married and has two children. It gave his last known address as Miami, where he was naturalized in 1960.

When he bought an Eastern Air Lines ticket to New Orleans, he gave the name "J. Marin."

Draft Call to 20,000 in September

WASHINGTON (AP)—The draft call for September will go up to 20,000 men, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said today. The July call was 8,000.

McNamara did not amplify that statement in testimony prepared for the Senate Armed Services Committee. It was considered likely, however, that the higher figure would be maintained until the armed forces have increased their size.

President Kennedy told the nation Tuesday night draft calls would be doubled and tripled as part of the effort to add about 217,000 men to the armed forces.

9 Persons Killed

9 persons were killed and 22 wounded Sunday night when the French paratroopers, angered over the slaying of a comrade by Algerian gunmen, stormed through Metz attacking anyone who looked like an Algerian.

Police said a gang of Algerians fired into a bar thronged by paratroops recently brought back from duty in Algeria. The shots killed a paratrooper and a French bartender and wounded several soldiers.

The paratroopers surged into the railway station buffet attacking Algerians at random. Authorities said the dead included two paratroopers, the barman and an Algerian worker. Five paratroopers and 17 Algerians were badly wounded.
